

"VETERANS FIRST" IS OFFICIAL SLOGAN CONFEDERATE REUNION IN BIRMINGHAM

View of a few Birmingham Skyscrapers, where the Confederate Veterans meet May 15, 17 and 18.

"Veterans first."

This is the slogan that has been adopted by the entertainment committee of Birmingham, Alabama, for the forthcoming reunion of the Confederate Veterans to be held in Birmingham May 15-17-18. The veterans that bared their breasts to the cannons' merciless fire during the late unpleasantness will be cared for above all other considerations. Everything has been planned and all other propositions set aside in order that the Birmingham reunion, which may be the last ever held here, will go down in history as one wherein everyone exhibited the keenest interest and care of the heroes of 1860-65.

The committees in charge of the reunion have progressed admirably with their work. Only the barest details remain to be lined out to make the Birmingham gathering memorable in the history of Confederate reunions. The hospitality of 1905, when Birmingham welcomed the Confederate hosts, will be greatly excelled by the character of the hospitality and the warmth of greetings to be offered the veterans in May.

Through the kindness of the government of the United States the committee has secured the loan of over 6000 cots, which will be placed in the marnificent buildings at the state fair grounds for the veterans who will accept the care and complete hospitality of the City of Birmingham. The veterans will be provided with every convenience. A commissary in charge of exports in the several necessary departments will be maintained. The camp grounds are accessible by several car lines from the center of the city. It is contemplated that the official camp grounds will be the rendezvous for a majority of the veterans visiting Birmingham.

That every detail looking to their comfort and care will be exercised was indicated by Morris W. Bush, president of the Chamber of Commerce who announced that the cool, airy buildings will be arranged so as to be perfectly comfortable for the heroes that are expected. The food will be the best and every function exercised to provide every necessity.

Aside from the magnificent care which will be showered upon the veterans at the camp grounds extensive plans have been arranged for their entertainment. The parade will be composed of automobiles and automobile trucks so that every veteran that cares to may ride during the parade. This will relieve the veterans, many of them feeble, of the cruel necessity of walking during the long parade.

WEATHER UNUSUALLY DRY AND WINDY IN S. C. DURING MARCH

Columbia, April 11.—March, 1916, was unusually windy and very dry. The sustained cold of the first two decades, with three marked changes to low temperatures, was not offset by the succeeding warmth, and thermal conditions were somewhat below the seasonal average for the month as a whole. Sharp freezes during the early part of the month caused considerable damage to early track on the coastal plain, necessitating much replanting, but fruits suffered no material frost injury. While the season was backward, winter grains continued in wholesome condition. The weather has been favorable for outdoor work, and much plowing and planting has been done. Warm rains were needed at the close of the month for winter grain crops to improve pastures and to germinate seed in cornfields and gardens.

Temperature.
The monthly mean for the section determined from reports of 41 stations, was 53.6 degrees, or 1.0 degree below the established normal 54.6 degrees below the mean of the warm March of 1907 and 7.3 degrees above the average of the cold March last year. Fourteen previous Marches were colder, and 16 warmer. The highest temperature was 87 degrees at Aiken, Aiken county, on the 22nd. This is 12 degrees lower than the highest March maximum temperature, which occurred in 1907. Sixteen previous Marches have had maximum temperatures of 87 degrees or above. The warmest period was generally between the 21st and 25th. The lowest temperature was 15 degrees at Mountain Rest, Oconee county, on the 9th. This is 5 degrees above the lowest March minimum temperature, which was recorded in 1901. The coldest periods of the month were on the 2nd and 4th, 9th and 10th and 15th to 17th, and during the first two decades daily mean temperatures above normal were an exception.

Precipitation.
The average for the section, 54 stations reporting, was 2.04 inches, or 1.82 inches below the established normal, 0.66 inch above the average of the dry March of 1910 and 8.34 inches below the average of the wet March of 1881. By far the larger portion of the rainfall occurred on the 2nd and 3rd, 17th and 21st, but copious showers occurred over the western portion on the 26th and 27th. Though greatly deficient in quantity as a whole, the amounts were fairly well distributed; over the upper coastal plain, the greater part of the Piedmont, and the extreme southern coast districts the measurements were less than 2 inches, and at only a few scattered stations were the local monthly amounts above 3 inches. The greatest local monthly amount was 3.50 inches at Liberty, Pickens county; least amount, 0.82 inch at Meriwether. The greatest 24-hour rainfall at any station was 2.09 inches at Landrum, Spartanburg county, on the 27th. The average number of rain days was 38 per cent below normal.

Snow flurries occurred at 8 stations of the upper Piedmont on the 3rd and 5th.

The Wind.
The prevailing winds were from the southwest. The average hourly velocity, determined from 7 anemometer records, was 11.8 miles, or about 3 miles per hour higher than any previous March record during the past 15 years. The highest average velocity in the region covered by reports was 15.0 miles per hour at Savannah, Ga.; lowest average, 9.0 miles per hour at Augusta, Ga. In this section proper the average velocities were 12.3 miles per hour at Charleston and 10.7 miles per hour at Columbia. The highest velocity for any 15 minute period was 54 miles per hour from the southwest at Charlotte, N. C., on the 22nd, and in the section proper, 46 miles per hour from the southwest at Columbia on the same date.

Sunshine and Cloudiness.
The average monthly sunshine, determined from 7 automatic records, was 281.1 hours, or 78 per cent of the possible amount. The average number of clear days was 19; partly cloudy, 9; and cloudy, 3, as against normals of 14, 8 and 9 days, respectively.

Richard H. Sullivan,
Section Director.

ANDERSON MAN TELLS OF WONDERFUL RESULT

T. F. DARBY GAINS 20
POUNDS ON SIX BOTTLES OF TANLAC

AGON WAS AWFUL

Says Milk Nor Water Would Stay on Stomach Long Enough to Get Warm.

"I have gained twenty (20) pounds in weight and have relieved an ailment with which I suffered for almost a year and which had baffled the leading physicians in a number of cities. That is what just six bottles of Tanlac, the medicine you call the master medicine, has done for me."

The speaker of this more than remarkable statement was T. F. Darby, an automobile mechanic employed by The Central Garage, Anderson, who resides at 127 North McDuffie St. Mr. Darby was for a year foreman of the Gibbs Machinery Co., of Columbia, one of the largest firms of the kind in the South, but, he explained, ill health forced his removal from Columbia in search of a satisfactory change in climate. But, it was not the climate, he found, that caused his suffering.

Regarding his suffering and the relief Tanlac quickly gave him, Mr. Darby said:

"I suffered with nervous indigestion for almost a year. I lost a great deal of weight, my stomach left me, and I got to where I could not work. I would suffer awful agony after eating, and neither sweet milk nor water would stay on my stomach long enough to get warm. I would get so nervous I could not control myself. I'll tell you the truth, I was in an awful condition."

"One time at Atlanta, where I had been to consult a specialist, I got on a train and when I realized where I was I was at Gainesville. I had been suffering so I had lost interest in everything. My wife got to where she was afraid for me to come up town by myself, for fear I could not get home if one of those attacks hit me, which came every time I ate anything."

"My heart began to go bad under the strain. One night it felt as if it would burst and I perspired so I felt as if I had been rained on. I tried every way and everything I knew of or was told of to get relief, but failed. But, down at Columbia one day a friend of mine told me to take Tanlac. I bought a bottle."

"Six bottles banished every bit of that nervous indigestion. I gained twenty pounds while taking it, and am in fine shape now. I can eat a hearty meal without suffering afterwards. I am strong, lively and happy, and my nerves are in fine condition. My kidneys, which gave me a great deal of trouble, are in good condition now, thanks to Tanlac. I can't get enough to eat, and have to fight against eating too much. I sure can recommend Tanlac. It is a wonderful medicine."

Tanlac, the master medicine, is sold exclusively in Anderson by Evans' Pharmacy.—Adv.
